The El Verano Lumber Co. was busy the first of the week unloading several carloads of lumber. The general merchandise store of M. F. Mullen also received a carload of merchandise and dry goods.

It is rumored that the town is soon to be without a barber. What next and who is the cause of all this? The agitator who closed up the roadhouses and until these are open business will be bad in the Sonoma Valley.

The closing ball of the season given by the management of the El Verano Villa, last Saturday evening, was a big success, a large number of local and San Francisco guests being present to dance out another good old summer time. Fine music, under the direction of Professor, P. B. Smith, was all those present.

Professor P. B. Smith, who has been with us all summer, left for the city last Sunday. Mr. P. B. Smith was to remain at the Villa, but a breach of contract suit, with his partner, Heine Brunner, in a bad deal, came to a climax, the latter part of the week and the Professor sold out to the above, who will now conduct the ranch himself. It will be known as Brunner's Poultry Farm.

W. H. Hornett, wife and sister, Miss Catherine Hornett and mother-in-law, Mrs. H. Cristy of Benia, motored to this place last Friday and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ryan. Peter J. Curtis, formerly Sheriff of San Francisco and who recently purchased Skaggs Springs, is also dickering for one of Sonoma valley's springs. It is rumored that he offered $90,000 for Fetters and $80,000 for Agua Caliente. A man like Mr. Curtis would be a boon for Sonoma Valley.

Last Sunday evening about 11 o'clock the saloon formerly run and owned by J. Serres was entered by some unknown vagabonds and a quantity of liquor taken by the thieves. As there has been a number of bangers on around the burg since the summer season closed it is pretty nearly known who the thirty-one are and the officers are busy looking for clues which they hope will lead up to the arrest of the intruders.

Mike Riddle, formerly a well-known brakeman on the local passenger run, but now on the corporation's pension list, passed through town last Saturday and was greeted by his many friends here. Mike is still as popular as when he was in the employment of the company and resides with his family in the City of Roses. Mr. Riddle is always a welcome visitor here.

In El Verano, September 30th, 1913, Mrs. Sophie Westoff, wife of the late Julius Westoff and mother of Freeman Westoff, a native of Canada, aged 48 years, passed away after a lingering illness of over a year. Louis Parente's, middleweight, sailor Petrosky, who spends his time here when not training was defeated in San Francisco last Friday evening by Jimmie Clabby of Indiana. The eastern lad was too clever for the tar and handed him a beating in each one of the twenty rounds. Clabby is a second Ketchel, and has won a home by his clever boxing with the Frisco fight fans, while the sailor is yet to meet a man to hand him a knockout punch. Too much training and fighting the past several months accounts for the sailor's poor showing. With a long rest he should come back as strong as ever.

William Lyons, who resigned on account of personal and other duties. Attorney King received the appointment from Governor Johnson and will take his seat at the next meeting of the Board.

Last Sunday morning as the S. P. train pulled out the crowd at the station was held breathless. Segheist formerly of this place but now of Santa Rosa, and who was en route to that place, attempted to board the moving train. It seems that Pete was engaged in conversation with former friends and had neglected to secure his ticket. As the train pulled in he ran to the ticket window, purchased his ticket and made a dash for the middle coach, colliding with the brakeman. Mr. Segheist was thrown violently to the ground and narrowly escaped rolling under the wheels. He was saved only by the prompt action of bystanders and was forced to wait for the evening local.

TRUSTEES HOLD SPECIAL MEETING.

Discuss Suit Against Sonoma Valley Light and Power Company—Other Matters.

The City Trustees held a special meeting Wednesday evening to consider the suit against the Sonoma Valley Light & Power Company, or the Lewis water system as it is more commonly termed. Four of the five trustees on the Board were present, namely Cummings, Wagon, Johnson and Breitenbach; Dal Poggetto absent. A letter was presented, which had been written to J. Wagon by Mason & Locke, attorneys for the city, requesting that he have present at the hearing on October 13, as witnesses Messrs. Cummings, Weyl and Eraldi. Mr. Cummings stated that he thought it would be impossible for him to act as a witness as he had no knowledge of the amount of the flow of the water from the city wells. After some hesitation Mr. Wagon was appointed among the witnesses. An inquiry was made as to who employed the attorneys, Mason & Locke. The answer was Mr. Heggie.

The matter of cleaning up and removing tin cans near the Mountain Cemetery was referred to the City Attorney.

The Fire Committee were instructed to have dock hydrants put on the hydrants on Napa and First street East.

The building committee was instructed to have lights put in order in the City Hall.

Congregational Church, Oct. 12.

Morning worship, 11 a. m.
Man looks for the profit in things and would think that whatever is profitable he would do, but is not so. Whatever is profitable in short-sightedness he will not do when it does not line up with his feelings. When profit needs far-sightedness he cannot see it, nor will he act on faith. Godliness is a dividend paying condition for every day of life in time and after time. The investment does not cease to benefit in this world. The investment need not be renewed for eternal profit. Godliness is giving God a place in your mental operations at all times. God will help you do this but you must lead in the operation Sunday morning we will talk about this matter.

Evening worship 7:30 p. m.
Some have no belief in prayer because they can see no sense in the matter. I do not have the power to form an image or mental conception of God, but He is. The man who believes prayer accepts the word of God as given in the Bible. He can see no sense outside of the testimony of God. He tries prayer and then he knows his experience that God is true. Sunday evening we will talk about this matter.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

AND DANCE.

A Splendid Program Arranged For Tonight

Tonight, at Union Hall, takes place the entertainment and dance to be given for the benefit of St. Francis' Catholic Church. As this is the first event of the year under Catholic auspices, the affair should and undoubtedly will be largely attended. The ladies of St. Francis' Church are energetic workers, neglecting no detail contributing to the success of their undertakings. The program, arranged for tonight, includes some very talented and clever entertainers, all well-known San Francisco artists.

Warren Shannon, the versatile comedian, is a host in himself, and has deservedly won the distinction of champion "fun maker" of the metropolis.

Miss Grace Allen, a dainty comedienne, will charm with her delightful numbers.

The work of Geo. Patterson is especially meritorious, and he is a prime favorite as an entertainer. J. C. O'Connor, violinist, and Chas. A. Whelan, pianist and ballad singer, are talented musicians, and their renditions will prove highly entertaining.

It is regrettable that the popular tenor, Henry Huber, is not to fulfill his engagement here, owing to the demise of his sister. Excellent talent has been secured, however, to complete a program that cannot but please the most critical audience.

Dancing follows program, music for which will be furnished by the Pauli Orchestra—an announcement ever welcome to all who enjoy dancing.

Throughout the evening, refreshments will be served. Admission, fifty cents.

COMING BABY SHOW.

Every indication points to the certainty of the coming Baby Show being a greater success than had at the outset been anticipated. The majority of mothers, having acquainted themselves with the benefit resulting from this Better Babies' Idea, are aiding the undertaking by entering their children in the contest.

Don't hesitate to enter your baby because he or she is over or under size, over or under-weight, according to the Better Babies' Standard. Read statistics of other contests, and you will understand that your baby is in line to score as high a percentage as any normal child.

Every mother should wish her baby to be judged by this most exact and scientific of standards; to know how many points her child will score, and how her little one compares with other babies of the same age.

Mothers, remember that your child will be examined in a private room, which is to be comfortably heated, if necessary. Unless your baby is a prize-winner, the percentage scored by him or her will not be made public.

Efficient aid will be given examining physicians by a competent corps of nurses. The ladies generously consenting to officiate in this capacity are Mesdames Thos. Brown, Geo. Breitenbach, Irving C. Gotar and Minnie Bridges.

During the afternoon, while examinations are in progress, an informal musical program will entertain. Refreshments will be served, and no effort is to be made that may in anywise make of the Baby Show a pleasurable as well as beneficial afternoon.

To insure the comfort of mothers and babies, assisting the Library Trustees, the following prominent Sonoma Valley ladies will serve as Reception Committee: Mrs. Thos. Baines, El Verano; Mrs. Robt. P. Hill, Eldridge; Mrs. J. H. Weise, Glen Ellen; Mrs. E. Cutter, Vineburg; Mrs. J. A. Lausborough, Schellville; Mesdames J. D. Wagon, L. Quatrol, Earnest Campbell; C. M. Johnson, F. T. Duh-ring, A. M. Thomson, and H. F. Bates, Sonoma.

Bear well in mind that, in the contest proper, beauty will be no consideration or advantage. Prizes will be awarded as a result of superiority in mental and physical development.

The prizes, too, are worthy of the contest. The appeal made by the Library Trustees to the fraternal orders and the Sonoma Valley Woman's Club, to further the success of the undertaking by small cash donations wherewith to purchase prizes, met with cordial response. The Woman's Club and Order of Druids have sent in generous donations, and other lodges will undoubtedly do likewise.

Sonoma Parlor, N. S. G. W., replied by unanimous vote to contribute the two first prizes.

As a result of this unexpected and splendid generosity on the part of Sonoma's Native Sons, the baby boy and baby girl (in any class), scoring the highest percentage, will each be the proud and happy recipient of a solid silver mug, suitably inscribed. Think what it means to win such a prize, and in a health contest, too. What a triumph!

The other prizes will consist of a beautiful gold necklace, gold signet ring, and handsome sterling silver spoons.

Secure from any of the Library Trustees an entry blank, fill out and send it to Secretary Mrs. F. Koenig, Union Hotel, Sonoma.

Remember, that every child six months and under, and up to four years old is eligible. Children whose fourth birthday occurs in 1913 may also be entered in contest.

Admission, adults, 25 cents; children, 15 cents.

The Baby Show is not the sole attraction Friday, Oct. 17th. In the evening, at Union Hall, an entertainment and dance is to be held. The program is of unusual excellence and opens with the delightful comedietta, "A Cousinly Mix-Up."

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Specifications of 1914 Overland.

Specifications of the new model of the Overland car, just announced by the Willys-Overland Company, Toledo, Ohio, reveal a line applying three body designs to the same chassis construction. In keeping with the policy of the Overland Company, not to announce new models to the public until prospective buyers may view the new product in the showrooms of the dealers, this announcement, though the first public description of the 1914 Overland line, finds Overland dealers in the possession of sample cars and ready to do business.

The 1914 Overland cars are not radically different from those of the season just past, although they show difference in a number of points, most of the changes being in the matter of dimensions and aided equipment rather than in other respects.

A brief review of the details shows that the motor is very similar in construction to that of Model 69, of which 40,000 were built during the 1912-13 season.

The motor is somewhat larger, 1-1x1 1-2 inches, and has been improved by the adoption of a constant level splash lubricating system. The push rods can be removed without disturbing the camshaft, being held in place by drop forged claws. The operation of the push rods is made almost noiseless by the use of bronze caps fitted over the push rod tops.

In order to compensate for the lower volatility of present day gasoline, the intake manifold has been redesigned and given a smaller diameter. The universal joint is larger than last year to compensate for the increased power.

The three-quarter floating Overland real axle remains the same, as before, as also does the braking equipment.

A roomy cowl dash touring body seating five passengers and finished in light green striping and nickel and aluminum trimmings is mounted on a wheel base of 114 inches; its doors are U-shaped, very wide, and hinged at the front on disappearing hinges, so that the sides of the body remain without projections.

At the rear of the front seats, where the passengers feet occasionally come in contact with the finished body surfaces, a protector strip is provided. The steering wheel is 18 inches in diameter and the steering post carries a carburetor adjusting lever within easy reach of the driver's hand.

The roadster body is of attractive design, also of the cowl dash type, with 32 gallon gasoline tank at the rear. Back of the tank is a large steel tool compartment rectangular in shape and large enough to carry regular touring necessities. Both touring car and roadster have vehicle tire carriers in rear, accommodating two spare casings. All spring ends have bronze bushings.

The radiator of the new Overland is an improved type, with large water spaces.

The touring car and the roadster are electrically lighted, current being furnished from a Willard storage battery carried at the right side of the running board and the dashlights which illuminates the instruments, such as speedometer, ammeter, etc., is connected with this tail light in series, so that the proper working of the tail-light is indicated by the dashlight.

The tops are hooked to the brackets of the sidelights, which leaves the front of the car unencumbered and certainly adds to the lightness of the covering when the top is up. Touring car and roadster, equipped with electric horn, Stew-art speedometer, clear vision ventilating windshield, mohar top, side curtains and boot, tools, jack, pump and electric lights and storage battery included sell for $950. When equipped with a Gray & Davis electric engine starter and generator, the price is $1075.

The Overland coupe comes equipped with electric lights and with Gray & Davis electric starter and generator. Seating accomodations for four passengers and all seats face forward. Upholstery is of Bedford cloth and the upper portions of the body interior are in natural wood finish. For the storing of goggles, veils, and other articles, there is covered compartment behind the driver's seat which is slightly in advance of the regular seat.

The Overland coupe body is made rather attractive by the fact that the plate glass sides, right and left of the windshield, are round and without the usual unsightly sash, instead of square and encased in wood, so that they give an unobstructed view of the road ahead. The coupe is listed at $1550.

WEISE-BIGELOW

DAMAGE SUIT.

Bigelow Loses Out in the First Skirmish in Court When Judge Seawell Turns Down His Demurrer.

In the preliminary skirmish in the Weise-Bigelow sixty-five thousand dollar libel suit which took place in Judge Seawell's court last Monday, Supervisor Weise scored the first point when the Judge refused to dismiss the suit and overruled Bigelow's demurrer.

Bigelow must now face the music and prove his charge of corruption against an honest official or else be cinched for the amount sued for. As he is considered a prevaricator in this valley it will be uphill work for him to convince any judge or jury that he is not liable for the damages sued for.
